MONDAY MORNING, OCTOBER 20, 1879.

Tue want of rain is the theme of all the newspapers since the excitement over the Ohio election subsided. The Wetzel Mess enger says that the time has come at last for the first time in this century when everybody is ready for rain at the same

Down at the New Martinsville lyceun they are to debate the question: "Resolved That the Bible teaches predestination.' Bro. Hart, of the Messenger, is one of the two who are to affirm this doctrine. always give the editors the tough side of everything at these lyceums.

A Railroad Down the River Badly heeded.

The Tyler county Star cries out in its last issue, "Give us a railroad." This cry is no doubt the expression at this time o nine-tenths of the people along both shores of the Ohio. The prolonged suspension of river navigation last winter and again this fall, has brought to mind very forcibly John Randolph's celebrated remark about the Ohio, that in winter is was frozen up and in summer dried up. While this remark is an exaggera tion of the actual facts in regard to the Ohio river, yet it has so much of truth in it that people always think of it after such seasons of suspended navigation as we have had in the last twelve months. It is a lamentable fact that the Ohio cannot be depended on in winter or summer as a highway of commerce. If Wheeling was left to the river alone these days, a she was once, we should not see much of a business boom in our midst. And it is because our neighbors down the river are left to it alone that they now cry on "give us a railroad." They may well cry out thus, for lately they have been almost cut off from the outside world, as they were for so long & season last winter. It consequence of this isolation they are greatly disadvantaged in commerce-in their sales and their purchases. Their produce cannot be got to market except at great cost, and all that is shipped to then by the little flat-bottomed boats is saldled with double rates for transports tion. Their apples, potatoes, wheat, oats tobacco, lumber, etc., are all embargoed for lack of shipping facilities. Those who buy their produce at a time like this do so on speculation, and will pay only the lowest prices, for fear of a decline before they can get the stuff to market. Thus the farmer's candle is burned at both ends, for while he gets the lowest price for everything he has to sell, he must for everything he has to sell, he must need; pay the highest price for all he has to buy, on account of the difficulty and cost of shipping it to him.

The only remedy for this great disability is a railroad along the shore between this city and Parkersburg. That such a railroad would be a full and complete remedy is not a matter for any doubt at this late day. That it would be a paying remedy, both directly and indirectly, both to those who may build it and those whose disabilities it will remove, is hardly less doubtful, for with the experience of two railroads traversing the Ohio river to this point, and both paying handsomely, it can hardly be doubted that a single line betraversing the Ohio river to this point, and both paying handsomely, it can hardly be doubted that a single line between this and Parkersburg would in like manner pay well. At the time, two years ago, when the mafter was discussed, Capt. McLure gave it as his opinion, based upon his long and intimate knowledge of the trade between this city and Parkersburg, that it would be one of the best paying lines in this region of country. No man in our midst is better qualified to give an opinion on such a question than the Captain. for he is not only an experienced riverman but he has of late years been a close observer of the railroad development of this part of the country, and was always sanguine that the P., W. & Ky. road would prove, as it has proved, a paying investment to this city.

There is a very large business to be done

There is a very large business to be done by a railroad along the river, as far down as Parkersburg. The trade and travel to such a quick method of communication and transportation. So great, in every point of view, would be its advantages that we doubt not that the countles along the route would subscribe liberally to the stock. Ohio county could well afford to take two hundred thousand dollars in it, the Pennsylvania company as much more, and the counties of Marshall, Wetzel, Tyler, Pleasants and Wood the balance. It ought to be built and equipped for a million of dollars as a narrow gauge. As Rev. a standard gauge, one million of dollars Editor Grafton Senti judiciously spent on it would make it easily bondable for such an amount as perance and religion to publish the fol-would complete and equip it. perance and religion to publish the fol-lowing facts. Not, however, in reply to

It seems to us that this is a good time any of the trashy rumors and lying reports to renew the agitation of this important that have been talked of and written matter. Certainly the people along the shore are in a condition of mind, after last winter's experience, and that of this fall, to be easily persuaded to take hold of the

MORGANTOWN.

The County Fair-Numpleions of Sharp Practice-The Fairmout Sham Battle. MORGANTOWN, October 18.

Here was elected and called to secret me, on his own merits, as an able precacher and a zealous pastor.

The Fair of the Monongahela Valley Agricultural Society came off on the 14th, 15th and 16th iust. The exhibit in the Floral and Meghanical Halls was tolerably large. The fruit exhibit especially was very large, and the fruit represented of a fine quality. The exhibit of live stock was larger than it has been seprenced as the premiums were higher this year on atock. The sweepstakes, pacing and trotting amounted to but a poor show. The pacing is believed to have been a made up affair. The best time made was 2:44. The trotting was noted for nothing but sharp jockeying. The people were all worried at the vain attempts at starting. Such senseless dallying should never be telerated. The trotting, after a start was once made, was uncommonly slow, 3:03 being the best time. Take the Fair altogether, and considering the large crowd present, it can hardly be called a success. Many have expressed themselves as dissatisfied with the results. On the second day of the Fair and the grounds between the University, and Highland clubs. The result was a victory for the University boys by 21 to 10. The Point Marion Brass Band furnished moust for the Fair. This band has been organized but a short time, yet they play exceedingly well. Many compilments were passed upon their music.

An attachment with the bollers will also be made, so that "live" steam may be employed at times when the engine is not unning, or steam from that source falls to produce a proper temperature. Bids for heating the remainder of the building laid the wardens 'unliming at the prison would be about $0,500.

The cost of putting in steam heaters for the two cell buildings and the first floor of the wardens' building at the prison would be about $0,500.

Geo. Trumppower, who had served about three years of a five years sentence for highway robbery, received a pardon from the Governor, this morning, and was discharged. He was sent from Wood county. Trumppower had served a two years sentence here prior to this term.

Considerable of a row was engaged in, one day last week on Roberts' Ridge near here, in which several young men were badly pounded up. The fuss occared at a sale where a large number of persons had congregated. It appears impossible to have a public gathering of any kind in this county, any more without several fights occuring.

A very decided improvement has been made in the appearance of the yard in front of the Warden's building at the pris-on. The yard has been nicely leveled off and a tasty paling fence erected, with the addition of a number of ornamental shade trees the yard will present a beautiful and pleasing appearance.

Bro. Hay's life and record as a minister have, been above suspicion. He was recommended to the Grafton Church by those who best knew him. The sum realized was about $200, which is to to to toward compoleing the new church which is now being built on the Carrico lot. Prof. Stewart is on a visit to your city, where he will spend a few days.

The cadets were not invited to the sham battle at Fairmont. As the cadets are beel leved to be the best drilled company in the blate, we guess that the Fairmonters were afraid of that $100 prizes word. We know of no other reason why an invitation should not have been extended.

The first Julior and Senior performance performance will take place on Friday, October 24th.

The Ohlo "boom" has reached us with a vengeance. The Republicans of old Mongalia felt that the party could ill afford to lose Obio, hence they have read with joy of the great result.
